FY21-25 FIVE YEAR FINANCIAL AND STRATEGIC PLAN

Revised May 1, 2020

ABOUT THIS PLAN

This revised FY21-25 Five-Year Plan reflects the sudden, dramatic changes in service demands and economic conditions as a result of the COVID-19 global pandemic. It prioritizes keeping Philadelphians, particularly our most vulnerable residents, safe, healthy, and educated while maintaining fiscal stability.

LETTER FROM THE MAYOR

TO MY FELLOW PHILADELPHIANS,

The last few months have been some of the most challenging this City has ever faced. Our City has had to deal with a highly contagious, life-threatening virus, while simultaneously dealing with the life-altering impact of social distancing that has forced businesses to close, and many people to lose their jobs.

But through all of it, I have remained more proud than ever to be your Mayor. You have followed difficult restrictions to protect yourselves, loved ones, and neighbors. You have helped those in need, volunteered many hours, donated goods and money, and supported eateries by ordering take-out. You have, in short, stepped up, in a way that will benefit Philadelphia for years to come.

Despite that, we face an economic downturn that will equal and probably exceed the worst of the Great Recession of 2008, and has created an almost $650 million hole in our FY21 budget. So even as our operational departments rushed to respond to the virus, I directed our Finance and Budget Directors to create a drastically revised spending plan in the wake of the pandemic and resulting economic downturn.

We set about revising the Plan by first setting clear priorities: We will keep all Philadelphians safe, healthy, and educated while maintaining core municipal services that our residents rely on daily.

This led to a thoughtful, deliberate, and collaborative process of revising the Five Year Plan that was further guided by three core principles:

1. Learning from the City's experiences in the Great Recession. One such lesson was that funding cuts for essential services like public safety take years to recover from. Another lesson learned is that Philadelphians care deeply about their neighborhood facilities.
2. Ensuring that these decisions were made through a lens of racial equity. The budget limits the impact of service delays or cuts on people of color, who are disproportionately impacted by the virus and already suffering from decades of systemic inequality.
3. A commitment to leverage federal, state, and philanthropic resources. We intend to reduce our own spending by partnering with others in order to help fund or deliver services.

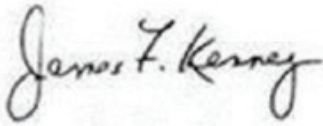

This result is a revised Five Year Financial Plan for Fiscal Years 2021-2025 which, along with the revised Fiscal Year 2021 Operating and Capital budgets, and Fiscal Years 2021-2026 Capital Program, addresses the unfortunate economic reality we now face. We are trimming City services down to the most essential, imposing layoffs on hundreds of workers, and reducing or eliminating some programs that are simply no longer affordable. This is not what I want for our residents -- but such drastic actions are necessary as we contend with both a pandemic and an economic catastrophe.

The Plan reflects the priorities listed above by guaranteeing the following:

- No police or fire layoffs.
- No reduction in emergency medical services.
- All fire stations will remain open.
- All health centers will remain open.
- All recreation centers will remain open.
- All libraries will remain open.
- PHLpreK and Community Schools will be maintained at current funding levels for FY21 and expand over the Plan.
- Weekly residential trash collection and single-stream recycling will continue, with some adjustments.
- We will prioritize keeping Philadelphians in their homes with support for basic systems repairs, preventing mortgage foreclosure, and support for renters using local and federal funding.

This Five Year Plan is the result of our determination to address both the pandemic and the economic downturn with bold decisions so that this government operates within its means-- while at the same time addressing other challenges, like gun violence, poverty, and the opioid epidemic. It transforms our priorities to best meet the needs of Philadelphians, particularly our most vulnerable residents under this new reality. I am confident that by focusing on core services and maintaining fiscal stability, we will rebound from the impact of COVID-19 as quickly and as safely as possible setting Philadelphia on a path of renewal and reinvention.

Sincerely,

FISCAL IMPACTS OF COVID-19 ON THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

On March 5th, Mayor Kenney presented the FY21-25 Five Year Financial and Strategic Plan to City Council. It included expectations for continued economic growth in Philadelphia, with additional revenues available to make investments to tackle Philadelphia's biggest challenges: intergenerational poverty, the need for an improving education system, and violence and public safety crises that threaten lives and disrupt our cherished communities. We'd planned to do that while reducing tax rates and improving our fiscal health by maintaining fund balances and reserves in case of a recession.

By the end of March, all but essential city operations and businesses had ceased operations, our schools had closed, and we had shifted our City workforce to preventing the spread of COVID-19 and treating those affected. The impact on the City's finances has been immediate.

KEY CHANGES:

▲ Reduced Revenues

- Immediate impacts on taxes including the Amusement Tax, Hotel Tax, and Wage Tax.
 - The impact on the Wage Tax, our largest revenue stream is compounded. Commuters account for 40% for all Wage Tax collections and the tax is not due when those commuters are required to work from home. There is potential for permanent shifts to required work from home for some, creating a large and lasting negative impact on City finances.
- To provide relief to Philadelphia taxpayers, we have extended deadlines for property and business taxes.
- As of May 1, 2020, no federal funds have been approved to offset revenue losses.

▲ Unplanned Expenses

- COVID-19 has generated significant new expenses for healthcare to prevent the spread and treat those affected.
- In addition to labor costs, there are new expenses for testing sites and supplies, quarantine locations and services, surge hospital capacity, medical vehicles, personal protective equipment, disinfectant/cleaning supplies, morgue capacity, and business supports.

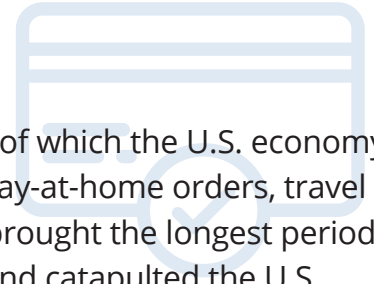

- Much of these costs are expected to be reimbursed by the federal government; however, we must devote additional resources to closely track and bill these costs to maximize reimbursement.

▲ Higher Costs for Essential Service Delivery & Fixed Costs

- To maintain existing services, the City initially offered a pay incentive to essential staff, which was not sustainable. With staff facing childcare and healthcare needs at home, absenteeism is expected to rise. To maintain core functions, it will require overtime or other added labor costs in some agencies, alongside service level reductions.
- Market losses will necessitate higher pension payments.
- Tax deadline delays and lower collections will almost certainly require issuing revenue anticipation notes to maintain cash flow.

The estimated revenue losses, federal reimbursements, and expense increases indicate that a revised FY21 budget proposal must include $649 million of reductions to planned spending, reduced reserves, and new revenue sources compared to the FY21 Budget proposed on March 5th to close the budget gap.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

The COVID-19 pandemic is a medical and financial crisis the likes of which the U.S. economy has never seen. Despite a strong economy through early 2020, stay-at-home orders, travel bans, and closures of schools and non-essential businesses has brought the longest period of economic expansion post-World War II era to a sudden close and catapulted the U.S. economy into a sharp contraction. Unlike prior economic challenges, the pandemic poses both a supply and demand shock. Supply chains and consumer demands have been disrupted as a result of the strict, yet necessary, social distancing measures. Prior to the pandemic reaching the U.S., the job market was reaching record-breaking employment rates. However, that job growth has come to a halt. Massive layoffs and furloughs are leading to never-before-seen rates of unemployment. Almost 10% of the U.S. civilian labor force has filed for unemployment benefits, a level not seen since the Great Depression, as states struggle to process an unprecedented volume of claims.

The eleven-year bull market has come to an end as equity markets dropped in March. The New York Stock Exchange triggered trading halts four times. Risk-averse investors began moving funds out of equity into more stable funds such as money market funds and Treasury securities before the Federal Reserve's intervention. However, lending markets have continued to operate well. There has been a jump in corporate bond issuance and commercial bank lending. Overall, the extreme volatility of the market is projected to result in Wall Street losses, although a portion of those initial losses has been made up.

COVID-19 has impacted almost every industry in the U.S. economy. Consumption has slumped as a result of business closures and consumers choosing not to purchase unnecessary items during a time of uncertainty for personal finances. Arts, entertainment, recreation, and restaurants have halted all nonessential activity. Factory closures are disrupting the manufacturing industry.

As of May 1, 2020, the Federal government has passed four pieces of legislation to protect against further economic deterioration:

- ▲ Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act - $8.3 Billion
 - Emergency telehealth waiver, vaccine development, support for state and local governments, and assistance for affected small businesses.
- ▲ Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA) - $3.5 Billion
 - Provides paid sick leave and expanded family and medical leave, funds national assistance, and establishes free testing for COVID-19.

▲ Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) - $2 Trillion

- Direct payments to American taxpayers, extended and increased unemployment benefits, a new unemployment assistance program for self-employed workers, small business relief, and state and municipality funds to reimburse costs related to the virus.

▲ Paycheck Protection Program and Health Care Enhancement Act - $500 Billion

- Additional support for small business loan program, funds for hospitals and testing (some of which will go to local governments), and support for the Paycheck Protection Program.

Additionally, the Federal Reserve has cut the federal funds rate to zero, resumed purchases of Treasury securities and mortgage-backed securities, authorized a municipal liquidity facility to help governments manage cash flow, and resumed and expanded loan programs from the 2008 financial crisis in order to support credit markets.

THE LOCAL ECONOMY

Prior to the impacts of COVID-19, Philadelphia's medium-term economic outlook was moderately optimistic. Wage Tax revenue was projected to remain stable as IHS Markit, the City's economic consultants, projected payroll growth to continue to grow next year as a result of very solid gains in number of employees. However, IHS expected total payroll growth to downshift significantly in 2021 and beyond, as the region reached full employment. In line with its prediction for the U.S., IHS predicted that Philadelphia's Real Gross Metropolitan Product growth would also slow over the next few years, from 1.9% growth in 2020, to 1.7% growth in 2021, and to 1.2% growth in 2022 and 2023. Sales tax collections were up 6.3% for the first half of FY20, compared to the prior year, low unemployment, solid growth in personal income, and a stable housing market were supportive of growth in consumer spending. Realty Transfer Tax posted revenues 14.5% above the previous year and transfer tax collections were 7.3% above this time last year. However, even prior to COVID-19, while Philadelphia was much better prepared for a recession than it was in 2008, Moody's Recession Preparedness report released in December 2019 found that, like most of the 25 largest cities in the country, Philadelphia was only moderately prepared for a recession.

Updated projections show that the COVID-19 outbreak has and will continue to significantly impact the local economy. The three main drivers of Philadelphia's economy are educational institutions, medical institutions, and hospitality. Educational and medical institutions are relatively stable and account for 32% of the total Philadelphia workforce. The leisure and hospitality sector, the most vulnerable to the effects of social distancing measures, employs a much smaller proportion of the total workforce, but its contraction disproportionately impacts low wage workers. As the Wage Tax is the City's main revenue source, there will be significant shortfalls in revenue due to the higher rates of unemployment. Projections show a weakening for Sales Tax, Real Estate Tax, Business Income and Receipts Tax, Realty Transfer Tax, and others.

THE FY21 BUDGET GAP

Before proposing revisions to the FY21 budget, the City projected a $649 million gap compared to the original FY21-25 Five Year Plan. The FY21 Budget Gap is due to three factors – a lower starting fund balance, reduced revenue estimates, and increased costs.

LOWER STARTING FUND BALANCE FOR FY21

The estimate for the FY21 starting fund balance from the first version of the FY21-25 Five Year Plan was $352 million. The estimate in the revised FY21-25 Five Year Plan has been adjusted downward to $268 million, a decrease of $84.3 million.

The impacts of COVID-19 reaching Philadelphia were felt almost immediately – raising costs and reducing revenues in FY20. In the early stages, the City put in place a pay incentive for the first two weeks for essential workers, increasing labor costs for the City, and began purchasing supplies and services needed to prevent the spread of the virus and treat those infected. Costs included testing supplies, personal protective equipment, ambulances, and quarantine sites. City Council approved an additional $85.4 million in spending late in the fiscal year for fighting COVID-19 and business supports. The federal government passed legislation providing funds to offset those costs. The revised budget reflects $100 million in new costs in FY20 and $100M in federal funds, and thus those new expenditures are not the source of the lower fund balance.

It is revenue losses that drive the lower fund balance for FY20. The City, relying on year-to-date collections, information about business closures, and input from the City's economists to adjust the size of the tax base and collection rates, has updated the FY20 revenue projections. With the decision to delay tax deadlines to assist impacted taxpayers, additional uncertainty is added to the fiscal picture for FY20 as significant payments are not due until July 15, 2020, rather than the traditional April 15th deadline. Reduced revenue from a variety of tax types, fees, fines, and revenues from the Parking Authority, are anticipated to reduce the FY20 Year-End Fund Balance by $84.3 million, meaning that FY21 will start with less cushion in the bank.

REDUCED REVENUES IN FY21

With the majority of the City's General Fund revenue originating from local taxpayers, the City's fiscal health is highly dependent on local economic conditions. To project the impact of the national and local economy on the City's taxes, the Budget Office relies on an external economic forecasting consultant, IHS Markit (IHS), who provided updated projections in mid-April. The City incorporated these projections for FY21 and beyond.

Revenue losses are projected to continue in FY21 and will be lower over the entire life of the FY21-25 Five Year Plan. Previously, the City estimated to receive a total of $5.19 billion in General Fund revenue in FY21, the largest proportion of which comes from local taxes, with an estimated $3.861 billion, or nearly three-quarters of the total, coming from tax receipts in FY21. Total revenues were budgeted to grow 3.49%, or $174.9 million from the FY20 estimate. Most of the increase ($117 million) was from taxes. Based on slower growth rates, the revised FY21 Budget proposal projects the City to receive a total of $4.695 billion in General Fund revenue in FY21, $241 million less than the original projection. The revised revenue estimate includes $50 million of revenue raising measures. Absent those measures, revenues would be $4.645 billion, $535 million less than the original projections.

INCREASED SPENDING IN FY21

As the public health crisis unfolded in FY20, with uncertainty around costs and sources of reimbursement, new spending related to COVID-19 was reflected in the General Fund budget. For FY21, with the passage of the CARES Act and other federal legislation, grant funds to absorb COVID-19 costs will be coming to the City. Those new funds, as well as appropriations to support other grants received in connection with COVID-19 and the spending they support, will be accounted for in the Grants Revenue Fund starting in FY21, similar to how other grant funds are reflected. One limitation to date, is that the new federal funds are for costs incurred before December 30, 2020. The City anticipates that managing the impact of COVID-19 and reopening our economy safely will require funding after that date and, without an extension of the time covered by the new federal funding, will need to add $30 million in new, previously unanticipated spending in FY21 for those efforts, as well as additional funding in the outyears of the FY21-25 Five Year Plan.

Lower Starting Fund Balance	$84M
Reduced Revenues	$535M
Increased Costs	$30M

PRINCIPLES GUIDING THE REVISED FY21-25 FIVE YEAR PLAN

The Mayor has prioritized:

- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians safe
- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians healthy
- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians educated

In this budget, we hope that by focusing on those core services and maintaining fiscal stability, we will be able to restart as quickly and safely as possible, setting Philadelphia on a path of revitalization and reinvention. This targeted approach considered the impacts of each decision and did not assume that all departments would take the same level of reductions. The revised spending plan was developed by adhering to the following principles:

First is learning from our experiences in the Great Recession. One such lesson was that funding cuts for essential services like public safety take years to recover from. Another lesson learned is that Philadelphians care deeply about their neighborhood facilities.

The second guiding principle is ensuring that these decisions were made through a lens of racial equity. We needed to intentionally limit the impact of service delays or cuts on people of color, who are disproportionately impacted by the virus and already suffering from decades of systemic inequality.

The third principle is a commitment to leverage federal, state, and philanthropic resources. We intend to reduce our own spending by partnering with others in order to help fund or deliver services.

With those priorities and principles guiding us, we sought input from department leadership and other stakeholders, and reviewed public input gathered within the past year about their preferences and priorities. We identified efficiencies and deferrals. As the City swiftly changed how some functions operate, we identified some opportunities to be more efficient. For example, leveraging the functionality of certain citywide IT systems in place of standalone software and ability to make some processes entirely digital. In other cases, we have identified activities or spending that won't be occurring temporarily due to COVID-19 (like large special events) or areas where we can wait a year or two to make an investment, like replacement of police and fire radios. COVID-19 is also requiring us to consolidate offices, programs, and facilities, many of which were launched at different times with different objectives and do not function as a unified ecosystem.

STRATEGIES TO CLOSE THE FY21 BUDGET GAP

To address the $649 million gap in the Five Year Plan and to create a framework for future years that balances the need to return to fiscal stability while meeting the service needs of Philadelphians, the revised FY21 Budget incorporates strategies to utilize/reduce reserves, enhance revenue, and decrease spending.

CLOSING THE FY21 BUDGET GAP
Lower Fund Balance	$228.7M
Revenue Enhancements	$49.9M
Spending Reductions	$370.4M
Total	$649M

REDUCE RESERVES & RETAIN REVENUES

Before considering steps that would reduce services for Philadelphians or increase their financial burdens, the existing budget was evaluated for changes in recent or planned financial decisions, like the size of planned reserves. Changes were identified, including:

- ▲ Reducing the amount of future recession reserves. In the original FY21-25 Five Year Plan, the City allocated over $55 million each year to be set aside as a reserve against a recession or other losses in revenue. With conditions dramatically changed, the new Plan will reduce that allocation to $20 million each year, freeing up the balance of those funds for service delivery. The Plan does not eliminate reserves, because as bad as the current situation is, there is always the potential for new needs to arise from either greater than projected revenue losses or new obligations. This will be an ongoing reduction in reserves of about $35 million per year.
- ▲ Utilize Existing Recession Reserves. At the close of FY19, $20 million was set aside for the Recession Reserve in addition to the amount budgeted at start of the fiscal year. These funds and any unspent funds from the FY20 Recession Reserve will result in a higher starting fund balance for FY21. This is a one-time change that will result in $20 million in increased spending capacity.

- ▲ Drawing down the Budget Stabilization Reserve. In FY20, the City of Philadelphia made its first ever, $34 million payment into the Budget Stabilization Reserve (aka Rainy Day Fund) and planned for annual payments throughout the FY21-25 Five Year Plan. Scant months later, we find ourselves needing to release those reserves and redirect them to spending. The revised Five Year Plan no longer anticipates annual payments into the Rainy Day Fund in FY21, FY22, and FY23, but envisions payments resuming in FY24, once the City's fund balance exceeds 3%, the trigger for payments into the Reserve. This is a one-time increase in revenues in FY21 of $34 million.
- ▲ Recapturing Pay-As-You-Go Capital funds not yet spent. In recent years, when the City has found itself with modest surpluses at the end of the year, funds have been allocated to Pay-As-You-Go Capital Funding. This allowed the City to pay for planned capital investments without borrowing costs or address emergency needs that arose during the year. At the end of FY19, Council approved $47 million of Pay-As-You-Go funds for an array of projects. Not all those funds have been spent, and the revised plan includes a return of $10 million to the General Fund in FY20. This is a one-time increase in revenues.
- ▲ Divert Revenue from expiring tax abatements to the General Fund. The Administration and City Council had previously agreed to earmark funding equal to the gain in City tax revenue from properties ending their ten-year tax abatements for affordable housing by making a payment into the Housing Trust Fund. Federal funding has been approved for affordable housing and homelessness assistance and prevention in response to COVID-19, allowing for an offset to eliminating this payment in FY21. As the federal funding is not recurring, the revised FY21-25 Plan includes payments into the Housing Trust Fund from this source to resume in FY22. This is a one-time redirection of $16 million in FY21.
- ▲ Lower Fund Balance. The original FY21-25 Five Year Plan projected a 6% fund balance in FY21, meeting the low-end of the City's internal goal of 6-8%, well short of the Government Finance Officers Association recommended 17%. With the impacts of COVID-19, the FY21 fund balance will be set lower than previously planned at $87.47 million, just 1.79% of spending. The FY21-25 Five Year Plan now reflects significantly lower fund balances, with only FY25 nearing the City's internal goal of 6%.

As most of the revenue recapture and reduced reserve strategies can be accounted for as either a spending decrease (for example, reducing the amount of the Recession Reserve results in lower obligations) or new revenue (the payment from the Budget Stabilization Reserve will appear as an increase in revenue from other funds), we do not present a separate total for these actions. Only the difference in FY21 fund balance is accounted for separate from revenue and spending changes.

REVENUE ENHANCEMENTS

With businesses closed, the economic impact of COVID-19 has resulted in layoffs, business closures across industry sectors, with those not yet impacted feeling great uncertainty. In this environment, there are limited options for seeking revenue enhancements, between a desire to limit any further financial burden on Philadelphia residents and businesses and the likelihood that efforts to increase tax rates would yield limited returns under current conditions. Given those constraints, the FY21-25 Five Year Plan includes limited changes to revenues, totaling $49.9 million in FY21. This is 9% of the revenue losses expected compared to the original FY21 budget and fills 8% of the budget gap. Revenue enhancements incorporated are:

- ▲ Freeze Business Income & Receipts Tax rate at 2020 level for the next 3 years. Since the 1990s, Philadelphia remained committed to reducing business taxes which are a barrier to economic development and job growth, however economic conditions required a pause in those efforts during the Great Recession. We will once again need to pause incremental rate reductions to the net income portion, leaving the rate at 6.2%. The FY21-25 Plan resumes cuts in FY24, with the rate reducing to 6.15% and then to 6.10% in FY25. The shift to Market-Based Sourcing will proceed as planned in FY23.
- ▲ Freeze Resident Wage, Earnings, and Net Profits Tax rate at 2020 level for the next 3 years. As with business taxes, Philadelphia's Wage Tax is an oft-cited barrier to job growth and has been steadily reduced over the past two decades, except for the pause in the Great Recession. While it would generate significant funds, the Administration does not propose increasing the Resident Wage Tax rate given the expected negative impact on racial equity and on Philadelphia's already high poverty rate. The current rate of 3.8712% will remain in place until FY24, when planned cuts will resume.
- ▲ Raise the Non-Resident Wage, Earnings, and Net Profits Tax rate. With the Wage Tax the largest revenue stream for the City, and commuters accounting for 40% of the revenue, modest rate increases yield significant returns for the City. As with all changes that increase tax burdens, this creates further barriers to making Philadelphia a location of choice for businesses and job, but this option puts the least burden on vulnerable Philadelphia residents for the amount of funds it will generate and for a commuter making $50,000 per year, this would increase their tax burden by only $27 per year. Our revenue projections have been adjusted to include increasing the rate from 3.4481% to 3.5019%, thru FY23. Rate reductions will resume in FY24.

- ▲ Raise the Parking Tax rate. The Philadelphia Parking Tax has proven fairly inelastic, with revenues continuing to grow despite rate increases and declines in car ownership over recent years. Additionally, given patterns of car ownership and commuting, an increase in this tax may be considered less burdensome to Philadelphia's low-income residents than others, like the Real Estate, Wage, or Sales Taxes. Further, there are public policy reasons to discourage driving. For these reasons, the Administration proposes raising the Parking Tax rate from 22.5% to 27%, which is expected to generate $17 million in FY21 and $100 million over the Five Year Plan.
- ▲ Eliminate the discount for early payment of the Real Estate Tax. Currently, property owners are granted a 1% discount for paying their annual bill one month before the March 31 due date. By eliminating this discount, the City will increase revenues by $5.7 million in FY21. This change will also impact the School District portion of the Real Estate Tax and provide additional funds to support quality education.
- ▲ Adjust License and Permit Fees. The Department of Licenses and Inspections will make cost of living adjustments to license and permit costs that are expected to generate $3 million in FY21. The Department has Council-granted authority to adjust the charges based on a Consumer Price Index multiplier and has not done so since 2017.
- ▲ Raise the Commercial Refuse Fee. Commercial establishment that rely on City trash pickup currently pay $150 twice a year ($300 total) for the service rather than use a private hauler. Via regulation, the Streets Department will increase the fee by $100 per payment, raising the total annual cost for weekly trash pickup to $500 (less than $10 per pickup).

FY21 REVENUE ENHANCEMENTS
BIRT Rate Freeze	$2.6M
Wage Tax Freeze (Residents)/Increase (Commuters)	$17.2M
Parking Tax Increase	$16.9M
Early Discount Elimination	$5.7M
Permit & License Increase	$3M
Commercial Trash Fee Increase	$4.5M
Total	$49.9M

SPENDING REDUCTIONS

With the scale of the fiscal impacts from COVID-19 being many times greater than the challenges faced in the great recession, the City cannot rely solely on one-time deferrals of spending, modest budget cuts, and looking for efficiencies. The size of the budget gap and the expectation that the negative impacts will linger for years necessitate that Philadelphia's entire approach to meeting the needs of its residents will be revamped. We are additionally constrained by our fixed costs – pension payments, debt service, and other legal obligations. After accounting for those costs, initial projections indicated that discretionary budget would need to be reduced between 15-20%. Rather than making across the board cuts, the revised FY21 Budget and FY21-25 Plan focuses on providing core services and targeting reductions to areas with the least impact on vulnerable populations and areas where others can fund or deliver services, relying on the guiding principles outlined earlier in this document.

The priorities are:

- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians Safe
- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians Healthy
- ▲ Keeping Philadelphians Educated

Even within these priority areas, departments will need to reduce spending compared to the original FY21 proposed budget and ensure that service delivery accounts for new challenges presented by COVID-19. These changes are regrettable but necessary to ensure we can deliver core services, particularly for vulnerable Philadelphians in FY21 and over the coming years.

CITYWIDE REDUCTIONS

- Hiring Freeze. On April 20, 2020, the City implemented a hiring freeze for all new positions under the purview of the Mayor. Some exceptions will be made, in areas like public safety, crucial government operations, and positions needed to prevent the spread of COVID-19, upon the approval of a hiring review committee. This will reduce Class 100 (salary spending) in departments as well as fringe benefit costs accounted for in the Finance budget.
- Part-time, Seasonal, and Temp Layoffs. Starting June 1, 2020, a significant portion of the City's temporary, seasonal, and part-time workforce will be laid off. This timing should allow individuals to access increased unemployment compensation from the federal government available before July.

- Exempt Pay Cuts. Staff exempt from Civil Service making over $35,000 per year will receive pay reductions ranging from 1% to 7% depending on income and receive additional Administrative Leave Days to ease the impact.
- Contained Labor Costs. As of April 26, 2020, the City has negotiated one-year labor contracts with three of the four unions (FOP, DC47, and IAFF) and is in negotiations with DC33. The City and Union leadership cooperated to quickly negotiate these contracts with modest increases to ensure Philadelphia's workforce would be on the job and compensated for the increased risk frontline employees now face. Additionally, current conditions are not conducive to full contract negotiations. Based on the three completed contracts, the City expects that the original FY21 Labor Reserve of $40 million is enough to cover the costs of the new contracts. The FY21 Budget also incorporates increases for non-represented civil servants at the same rate (2%) as the contract with DC47.

TARGETED INITIATIVES

Public Safety

- The Philadelphia Police Department will maintain the size of its uniformed force and continue to train new classes of cadets. Implicit bias training, anti-racism training, and the continued roll-out of body worn cameras will occur. The Department will reduce overtime expenses (partially enabled by the expectation that the City will host fewer large special events in the coming year, as well as a reduction in court overtime).
- The Philadelphia Fire Department will maintain the size of its uniformed force and continue to train new classes of cadets; but will not pursue expansions funded in the original FY21 budget, like a dedicated HazMat unit.
- Anti-Violence efforts led by the Managing Director's Office will be restructured, focusing on programs with proven results in Philadelphia, like the Community Crisis Intervention Program and launching evidence-based initiatives like Group Violence Intervention. Planned blight remediation to support anti-violence efforts will still occur but at a reduction, along with a reduction in demolitions.
- The Philadelphia Department of Prisons will reduce spending, to reflect the significantly reduced prison population and reduction in initiatives not related to safety. This includes eliminating vacant positions, onboarding one instead of two cadet classes and reduced food and medical costs.

Public Health

- All Health Centers will remain open and the Department of Public Health will shift resources from existing efforts to COVID-19 prevention. To reduce overtime costs, evening and weekend health center hours will be reduced and custodial and legal positions will be eliminated. Other changes include not purchasing vaccines for City employees with private health insurance, eliminating a media campaign around children's health, delaying a drug user survey, and finding a more cost effective approach to providing bathrooms in Kensington put in place to prevent the spread of Hepatitis A.
- Funding for the Department of Behavioral Health and Intellectual disAbility Services will remain at the original FY21 level. Each $1 from the City's General Fund leverages $9 from other sources, meaning that any cut by the City would be felt ten times over.

Education

- The City will still increase its annual contribution to the School District of Philadelphia, by $30 million to $252 million. This is less than originally proposed by $15 million. The School District, like the City is facing tremendous budget gaps due to COVID-19, exacerbating long-standing financial challenges. To address that gap, the Administration proposed an increase to the Real Estate Tax to ensure Philadelphia children can receive an education in the coming years and to help the District avoid the kind of draconian cuts it was forced to make several years ago.
- PHLpreK slots and support for Community Schools will be continued at FY20 levels.
- The City's contribution to Community College of Philadelphia will increase compared to FY20 and enable the launch of the Octavius Catto Scholarship, although with a delayed Spring 2021 start and smaller program.

Community Services & Facilities

- All Libraries and Rec Centers will remain open, but with reduced hours and programming. Particularly affected due to social distancing and funding constraints will be the Summer of 2020, including not funding City pools and cancellation of the Dell Concert Series. Libraries will focus remaining programming resources on early childhood education and workforce development.

- Funding for the arts, special events, and non-profit support will be reduced or eliminated. The Office of Special Events, the Office of the City Representative, and the Office of Arts, Culture, and Creative Economy will cease to exist, although some resources and functions will be retained and shifted to other departments.
- Funding for the Mural Arts Program and Philadelphia Museum of Art will be reduced. These organizations have demonstrated outside fundraising capacity.

Affordable Housing & Homelessness Prevention/Assistance

- With Philadelphians losing their jobs or seeing reduced income, housing stability in Philadelphia is expected to become more fragile in the coming months. In recognition of this, federal legislation approved funding for affordable housing and homelessness prevention/assistance which will flow to Philadelphia. This confirmed federal funding will enable the City to eliminate General Fund dollars for planned launch of PHLRentAssist through the Department of Planning & Development and reduce funding for the Office of Homeless Services. This allows funds to be reallocated to core City services not receiving federal funds. Using local and federal funding, we will prioritize keeping Philadelphians in their homes by focusing on basic systems repairs, preventing mortgage foreclosure, and support for renters.

Economic & Workforce Development

- The federal government has allocated approximately ten times the amount of money to businesses through loans, grants and tax cuts than it has to state and local governments. While the need to support Philadelphia businesses through this recession and encourage an inclusive recovery is obvious, the availability of federal relief dollars enables a reduction in funding for the Commerce Department. There will be reduced support for some partner organizations, reduced funds for international business attraction and storefront improvement, and planned office renovations and new staff will not occur. The Quality Jobs grant and forgivable loan program has been repositioned as a small business relief and recovery program and commercial corridor cleaning efforts will continue as originally proposed.
- The Office of Workforce Development will cease to exist, with some resources and functions transferred to the Commerce Department as part of their new strategy for economic and workforce development.

Government Administration

- The City will continue the local business purchasing initiative to improve contracting opportunities for Local Business Entities (LBEs) and Minority-, Women-, and Disabled-owned Business Entities (MWDSBEs).
- The City will eliminate internships, hiring and training programs for specialized populations, and certain professional development programs.
- Planned hiring to support the ongoing transition to a new payroll system, OnePhilly, will be dramatically reduced.
- The City will reorganize the medical evaluation process to focus only on new hires, uniform promotions and drug and alcohol screening. Ancillary services involving support to the Police Department for facial hair monitoring and return-to-work evaluations will be discontinued.
- The City will reduce IT support and projects, including delaying the planned replacement of the Capital Budget System, delaying purchase of Police and Fire radios, and aerial imagery and geodata.
- The City will reduce funding for outside legal counsel.

For a department-by-department chart of revised General Fund spending levels for FY21 compared to the original FY21 proposal and FY20 adopted budget, please see the appendix.

THE CITY'S CAPITAL BUDGET & PROGRAM FY21-26

The fiscal impacts of COVID-19 have necessitated a revised FY21 Capital Budget Proposal with a reduction in spending compared to the original proposal, to relieve pressure on the Operating Budget for debt service. Originally $171 million in new, tax-supported investment, the revised FY21 Capital Budget includes $128 million in new general obligation support and leverages outside revenue sources and carryforward funds from prior years. For the remaining years of the Capital Program, FY22-26, we maintain the originally proposed level of funding.

The revised FY21 Capital Budget prioritizes:

- ▲ Public Health and Public Safety, with limited changes to Police, Fire and Prisons funding and no change to the funding for Public Health.
- ▲ Maintaining City-Operated Facilities, especially as there will be no closures to City Rec Centers, Libraries or Health Centers.
- ▲ Projects already underway or with vendors selected preferred over new starts.
- ▲ Projects without alternative funding sources, either from carryforward funds or outside sources.

REVISED FY21 TAX-SUPPORTED (GO) CAPITAL BUDGET

Note 1: The above Personal Services assumptions do not include the amount set aside in the Civil Service Commission budget for potential future labor obligations.

Note 2: Obligation levels in the current plan have been established for most departments and cost centers based upon specific issues concerning desired service levels, management and productivity initiatives underway, anticipated competitive contracting issues, existing and anticipated contractual obligations, and a host of other factors. The growth assumptions set forth above provide only the underlying foundations for the specific proposed obligation levels which have been established for departments in the current plan.

REVISED GENERAL FUND TAX PROJECTIONS

Until March 2020, the City of Philadelphia's economy had expanded at a solid pace since the Great Recession. In the Original Proposed Budget, the City projected $5.19 billion in General Fund revenue in FY21, the largest proportion of which comes from local taxes, with an estimated $3.861 billion, or nearly three-quarters of the total, coming from tax receipts in FY21. Total revenues were budgeted to grow 3.49%, or $174.9 million from the FY20 estimate. Most of the increase ($117 million) was from taxes.

However, the onset of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has rendered the original revenue projections obsolete. Philadelphia's tax revenues for FY21 are estimated to fall 11.6% or $512 million short of the original estimate. This shortfall in City revenues reflects the impact of the public health measures introduced to stop the spread of the pandemic, which have resulted in unprecedented economic damage.

FY21-FY25 GENERAL FUND: PROPOSED REVENUES

Philadelphia's tax revenues for FY21 are estimated to fall 11.6% or $512 million short of the original projections made in March 2020, even after $42.4 million in revenue enhancements. The tables below illustrate the change in projected revenue:

WAGE AND EARNINGS TAX: The largest source of General Fund tax revenue is the City's Wage and Earnings Tax. This tax is collected from all employees that work within the city limits but live elsewhere, as well as all residents, regardless of work location. It is called the Wage Tax when remitted by the employer (as is required of all Pennsylvania employers) and the Earnings Tax when submitted directly by the employee, but for simplicity we refer to them collectively as the Wage Tax in this document. The tax rate is separated into a resident rate and a non-resident rate. The revised FY21-25 Plan assumes that the non-resident rate will rise to 3.5019% for FY21 through FY23, with reductions after that and that the resident rate will remain at 2020 level through FY23, when planned reductions resume.

For FY21, the tax is projected to generate slightly over $2 billion with $1.5 billion coming directly to the General Fund and $472.9 million coming back to the City from the PICA City Account. The Wage Tax provides approximately 44.5% of tax revenue and, when combined with the PICA portion, provides 42.6% of all revenue.

REAL PROPERTY TAX: The Real Property Tax is levied on the taxable assessed value of all property in the City and is the second-largest source of General Fund tax revenue. Unlike other cities and counties that rely more heavily on the property tax as a proportion of their budget, Philadelphia’s property tax is projected to account for only 20% of local tax revenues in FY21. Philadelphia’s property tax is split between the City and the School District of Philadelphia (currently at 45% City; 55% District).

For FY21, assessed values for properties will remain at the FY20 level, with limited exceptions, as the Office of Property Assessment transitions to a new computer-assisted mass appraisal system. Given the uncertainty for real estate market conditions in FY22 and beyond, this revised Five Year Plan make so adjustment to the assessed values projected in the March 2020 Plan, but reduces the collection factor to 91% in FY21, and gradually returning to the FY19 collection rate of 96.2% by FY25.

This Plan does not propose a change to the City portion of the Real Estate Tax rate, but the Administration does propose an increase to the School District portion to address its funding gap.

BUSINESS INCOME AND RECEIPTS TAX: The Business Income and Receipts Tax (BIRT) is the third-largest source of General Fund tax revenue at a projected $464.3 million in FY21. The BIRT is based on both gross receipts (sales) and net income (profits). Every individual, partnership, association, and corporation engaged in a business, profession, or other activity for profit within Philadelphia with more than $100,000 in sales must file a Business Income and Receipts Tax return, whether or not it earned a profit during the preceding year. The BIRT is filed and paid annually for business activity from the prior year. The 2020 tax rate for gross receipts is 0.1415%, and the net income rate is 6.20%. To address pandemic-related revenue losses, these rates will remain in place through FY23, with planned reductions to the net income portion of the tax resuming in FY24.

BUSINESS INCOME AND RECEIPTS TAX
 FISCAL YEAR	 GROSS RECEIPTS TAX RATE	 NET INCOME TAX RATE
2020	0.1415%	6.20%
2021	0.1415%	6.20%
2022	0.1415%	6.20%
2023	0.1415%	6.20%
2024	0.1415%	6.15%
2025	0.1415%	6.10%

Under the best economic circumstances, it is hard to predict BIRT revenues from one year to the next, due to its sensitivity to economic conditions, local, state, and federal tax law changes, and tax planning by taxpayers. This volatility is expected to increase due to the impacts of COVID-19. The following table shows the base growth rates projected for the BIRT with input from the City's economic consultant, IHS Markit.

REAL PROPERTY TRANSFER TAX: The Real Property Transfer Tax rate in the city is 4.278%, 3.278% of which is imposed by the City and 1% of which is charged by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Revenues from this tax fell dramatically during the last recession but have grown significantly since the recession ended. Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, projections were expected to be $324.8 million in FY21. However, updated projections show that the anticipated tax receipts for the Real Property Transfer Tax will fall 6.59% to $321.8 million.

Realty Transfer Tax collections were strong in FY20 through December, but this tax is volatile due to the outsized impact of a small number of large commercial transactions can have on total revenues.

SALES TAX: The Sales Tax rate in Philadelphia is 8%, with 6% going to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the remaining 2% as a local Philadelphia tax. Since FY15, the tax has been allocated as follows: the first 1% goes to the City, and the remaining 1% is shared between the School District of Philadelphia and the City. The School District receives the first $120 million, and the remaining proceeds go to the City's Pension Fund. In FY19, the City sent $52.1 million in sales tax revenue to the Pension Fund. The closure of non-essential businesses in Philadelphia will drastically reduce Sales Tax collections. Collections are projected to fall to $325 million in FY21.

PARKING TAX: The Parking Tax is levied on the gross receipts from all transactions involving parking or storing of automobiles in parking lots and garages. Philadelphia has shown a slight increase in car ownership since 2008, with the percent of occupied housing units with access to at least one car increasing from 66% in 2008 to 69.4% in 2018. Despite this modest growth, growing use of ride sharing, and no change in the tax rate since 2015, this tax has continued to grow steadily. The FY21-25 Five Year Plan proposes to raise the Parking Tax rate to 27%, from the current rate of 22.5%, in order to increase revenues by $16.9 million in FY20.

PHILADELPHIA BEVERAGE TAX: The Philadelphia Beverage Tax is a tax on any non-alcoholic beverage, syrup, or other concentrate used to prepare a beverage that lists as an ingredient any form of caloric sugar-based sweetener or sugar substitute. This tax is levied on the distribution of sweetened beverages intended for retail sale in Philadelphia. The tax is levied at 1.5 cents per ounce of sweetened beverages. While concentrates or syrups are also taxed, their tax rate is based on the final beverage produced, not the raw syrup or concentrate. The Philadelphia Beverage Tax is projected to generate $72.6 million in FY21. The City projects a decline in annual revenues over the Five Year Plan to reflect national trends in decreased consumption of sweetened beverages.

The tax is estimated to produce the following gross revenue over the Five Year Plan:

PROJECTED PHILADELPHIA BEVERAGE TAX REVENUES
 FY21	 FY22	 FY23	 FY24	 FY25	 FYP TOTAL
$72.6M	$71.9M	$71.2M	$70.4M	$69.7M	$355.8M

OTHER TAXES: Other taxes include the Net Profits Tax, the Amusement Tax, the Smokeless Tobacco Tax, and several smaller taxes. Overall, they are projected to generate $21 million in FY21, 0.6% of total tax revenues.

NON-TAX REVENUES: Revenue from Other Governments: Revenues from other governments – primarily the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government – make up a small portion of total General Fund revenues. The total in FY21 is projected to be $783 million, with the majority ($473 million) raised through the residential portion of the City’s Wage Tax and then remitted by PICA after debt service and other expenses (discussed earlier). Federal funding for the response to COVID-19 is reflected in the Grants Fund, not the General Fund for FY2.

Other than the PICA City Account, the most significant lines within this type of revenue are from Wage Tax Relief (estimated at $86.3 million in FY21) from the Commonwealth, used to reduce Wage Tax rates; Pension Aid from the Commonwealth (projected to be $82 million in FY21); and a projected $43.6 million in FY21 from the Philadelphia Parking Authority for on-street parking revenues (including violations and fines).

LOCALLY-GENERATED NON-TAX REVENUE: Locally-Generated Non-Tax revenue includes various fees, fines, permits, and other charges assessed by the City, as well as proceeds from asset sales. In FY21, the City projects to collect $360.5 million, a 1% decrease from FY20.

REVENUE FROM OTHER FUNDS: This category consists of payments from other funds of the City to the General Fund, such as from Enterprise Funds (Water and Aviation) or from the Grants Fund and is projected to total $124.4 million in FY21. This is $37.1 million less than FY20, an increase of 42.6%. This increase is due to receiving funds from the Budget Stabilization Reserve and reimbursement by OIT-911 funds.
